Grant Objectives

The Basic Science Research Consortium Grant (BSRCG) fosters partnerships between entities and research teams to conduct ambitious research and discovery projects that require complementary skills and capabilities, addressing fundamental challenges and advancing the scientific understanding in areas of national priority (TRL1-3). By promoting collaborative, fundamental research, the grant aims to enhance the impact of scientific discoveries, break silos and drive joint progress in areas of national importance. The grant awards funds of up to SAR 4M over a period of 48 months.

What is the objective? – To support basic research requiring collaborative partnerships and complementary capabilities to drive scientific advancements.

For more information, please refer to the guideline document.
